

Production & Stage Management

In more recent years Liz has found herself backstage and front-of-house creating, producing, stage managing, MC'ing promoting and running events of all shapes, forms and sizes. A lot of this has been working on Charity Events and Fund Raisers. She now brings those skills at doing such events to the table and is offering her services in those areas to you.

Think of it this way; as a performer, Liz knows what can make the difference between a performance being one never to be forgotten or one that was never noticed. It can be the same act but with a different set of circumstances – well, that's all it can take to make or break 'em. Nothing worse than feeling you've wasted your Entertainment Budget on a fizzer – “if only they weren't eating while I was on” “if only they'd dimmed the lights and used a spotlight” “we went on far too late, they were rowdy” how many have said this after the fact ?

As a Consultant Liz can help you plan the whole evening to make it all gel and work together, then you can sit back and watch your guests enjoy the food, be “wowed” by the entertainment, be thrilled at winning an award, raffle prize or auction item and still have enough to drink, time to chat and dance the night away all within your allotted times.

As Producer Liz can work with you to get the right people, equipment and even theming to make your vision a reality

As Stage Manager with clipboard and Run Sheet in hand every one will be where they are meant to be when they are meant to be and happy doing it. She takes it seriously but it can still be fun!
